President Julius Corbett
Alternative Peoples' Party

Dear Brother Corbett,

This is the end of a journey for me. I never envisage this, and it feels like a bad dream.

Nothing could have prepared me for this. For those who believe that I was aware that I had previously resigned my position from the APP, you are wrong. I did not know that I had resigned, I never resigned, I never hinted that I wanted to resign and I certainly had no amicable arrangement, and/or hostile fallout with the Executive of our party which necessitated an invisible letter of resignation from me. If I had a choice, I would never depart from our APP family now; I would certainly wish to assist with preparations for the next general elections.

Recent media releases which referenced my work with the APP have caused me much grief; not because of what the disclosures have done to me, personally, but because of how it has hurt our beloved party. This is what has triggered me into taking the necessary action.

I regret that the business of the party has found its way in the public domain. This is a party's biggest nightmare, and as party strategist, I repeatedly preached against this. The lesson, therefore, is never to ventilate private party matters, publicly. It is my wish that our party, the APP, and other political party members learn to discipline themselves, and not be tempted to turn to the public to settle private disputes.

In my case, I was caught unaware with the announcement of an agreed termination. As I stated before, no letter, prior to this one exists, which confirms that I had resigned as political strategist of APP. This is why I was so shocked to read of my demise before even given the privilege of a discussion with the team. Patrick John had warned me, and I failed to listen. Now, I am kicked out of an institution which was designed for the benefit of our nation; not to serve the selfish desires of one, or a few.
